"Even Santa Couldn't Pass Up Fishing In The Glades!"

Christmas In Florida

The visitor sadly shook his head
As he basked in the tropical sun
"Call this Christmas?" to me he said,
"Well not where I come from!"

"Christmas needs snow and ice and cold
And the sound of the sleighbells ring;
And as for me I can't be sold
On this weather that feels like spring."

Santa Claus in a bathing suit
No sir, it just isn't right
Cranberry sauce and tropical fruit,
I think it's an awful fright.

"My poor mis-guided friend," I said
Your lament does not ring true
You're mixed up by the things you've read,
From a myth you take your clue.

For no snow fell on Bethlehem
On the night the Star first shown
There was no blizzard nor howling gale
That swept with a shriek and a moan.

The breeze was soft and what is more
The night that the Christ-Child came,
Hibiscus bloomed near the stable door
As Mary murmured His name.

Bougainvillea of violet hue
Arched in a graceful bow
Poinsettias, wet with midnight dew
Enhanced that sacred hour

The Heavenly Host in the starry sky
Proclaimed the birth of the King
And rustling palms echoed the cry
As the whole Earth seemed to sing.

"So we find here, in our sun-drenched land
Untroubled by the ice and snow
That the spirit of Christmas is near at hand
And we feel God willed it so.

— By James B. Moore

The Herald's Youngsters Visit Santa

Steve Richey, Donna Rigdon and Mary Lynn Shubert were excited to see as they watched Santa fishing in the William Masonic pool. They gave Rudolph affectionate pats as he made a bow each time the old gentleman pulled in his line. Their orders, though, were placed much earlier... bicycles, tractor, "First Step" and "Shaggy Kathy" dolls were among requested items.

Holiday Closing

Banks of the community, the Florida National at Belle Glade, the Bank of Belle Glade, the Bank of Pahokee and the Everglades Federal Savings & Loan Association will be closed Monday after Christmas and Monday after New Year's.

All will be open Friday morning, the regular banks closing at regular closing hours with the Savings & Loan closing at noon.

The Belle Glade Herald will close Thursday at noon but will reopen on Monday after Christmas and New Year's.

The last week of the year will find the HERALD's issue as small, if not the smallest of the year, only the very important news being handed.

Our City Commission Did—

The City Commission while meeting in special session Tuesday authorized the letting of bids for a 20 x 20 foot building for equipment storage at the golf course.

The City Manager, Tevis Huguely, was also instructed to investigate the cost of the city doing the work.

The commission discussed the operation of the Golf Course and Club when the new building is completed. It was agreed that the city will operate the course and club during the next year because no other alternative was available. Huguely will present the commission with a budget for the operation during the next fiscal year.

Commissioner E. F. Weatherly suggested that detailed records be kept of the cost of operation so the commission would be able to provide a prospective lessee with suitable information.

Viet Nam Casualty Commemorated

A resolution commemorating the memory of Cephus Barnes, Jr., was adopted in a special meeting of the City Commission Tuesday.

The resolution which will be presented to Cephus Barnes, Jr., acknowledged his great indebtedness to his son "who lately gave his life" in the service of his country in the defense of its principles and commitments in the conflict in Viet Nam.

5-Year Garbage Collection Contract Signed By City

In a special meeting Tuesday morning the City Commission voted unanimously to approve a five year contract with the South Florida Sanitation Company.

At the commission's last regular meeting John Baker, city attorney, was authorized to revise sections of the contract in conjunction with the attorney for the sanitation company.

The revisions were: —Vague default provisions were rewritten to provide for notification and default of contract under stated provisions.

—The formula for the determination of payment was verified.

—The minimum payment of $85,500 was eliminated, enabling a lower rate if the volume decreases.

Other than these changes "the contract is as it was when it was presented at the last meeting," Baker said.

The revised contract provides that the city will default if payment is not made to the sanitation company within five days after the due date. Payment is due the first of the month following the month of service rendered.

The company will default if, after notification of a failure in service, the failure is not corrected within five days.

Masons Host 26th District Visitors Here

Several congratulatory remarks were made to the host lodge for its hospitable treatment and excellent food which by now is traditional for Lodge 273.

Incoming worshipful master Tom Parker invites all the families and visitors to attend their open public installation of the incoming officers for the year 1986 which will be held 8:30 p. m. Monday, December 27 following a short business meeting. Refreshments will be served.

D. W. Fishler Accepts Rome Assignment

Don W. Fishler, of the Everglades Experiment staff expects to leave early in January to attend a 3-4 week orientation school, prior to leaving for an overseas assignment with the U. S. Department of Agriculture with headquarters in Rome, Italy.

Fishler has accepted a position as Assistant Director for the European Regional Research office.

Since joining the Everglades Experiment staff in 1957, Fishler has been in charge of the Fiber Project for the Cotton and Cordage Branch, and was named investigations leader in 1960.

He received his BS and MS in Genetics and Agronomy from Oregon State University after attending public schools in South Dakota and Nebraska.

The Foreign Research Program, Fishler said, is financed with foreign currencies which have accumulated to the credit of the U. S. through the sale of surplus agricultural goods.

The Rome office negotiates research contracts with Universities and with private institutions, to conduct research that has application to American Agriculture.

The area includes most of the European countries and some African Nations. During the last year, the U. S. has received $1.5 million in research funds from the European countries.

Three hundred thirty five families in the Glades will be furnished food baskets, and needed clothing on Thursday afternoon by the combined efforts of the Glades Migratory Labor Committee and the Salvation Army, from a list prepared by Welfare Agencies, Health Department and the local Committee, and checked by the Army.

In the total of 1,366 children are 584 boys and 603 boys of needy families; 119 packages have been left at We Care for clients of that institution.

On Sunday the Salvation Army will have a band accompany a group singing carols at the Glades Correctional Institution. Christmas bags of food and clothing will be given 460 inmates.

South Bay Lions Vote To Begin Blood Bank

The South Bay Lions have started the wheels rolling to set up a blood bank for So. Bay. Mr. Franklin Kelly presided at the meeting which was held December 16, and was appointed co-chairman along with Mr. Eric Hartline as chairman for the blood bank drive.

The membership is asking for support from the local residents and their corporation in giving their blood type and name when called upon to do so.

It was also agreed upon by the members to be the sponsors for the Xmas lighting of South Bay. Fourteen members were present for the meeting which was held at the Holiday Inn in Belle Glade.

An important part of the Christmas activities of the Glades' Christmas — that of clothes and shoes — is supervised by Mrs. Katherine Price on behalf of the Glades Migratory Labor Committee. Through local collections and boxes sent from throughout the southern states, Mrs. Price maintains an inventory of all sizes of shoes and wearing apparel, which is available to any individual or family groups upon certification of the local Committee.

Certification is an important part of the work done by the Committee, which is assisted by relief and welfare groups, as well as by the peace officers of the area.

On Thursday both Belle Glade and Pahokee will have the scene for those on the lower east side and south side of the Lake to the County line.

The approved list includes 193 families in the Belle Glade to Lake Harbor area and 55 families in the Pahokee area. There are 87 scattered families, not in either of the two above areas who have received grocery orders for Christmas.

Any needy family or individual may be referred to the Salvation Army, Mrs. I. L. Price or Jim Wierengos, as not all are registered as a needy family, grown-up or child going lacking, to prevail.

Kellenberger Dismisses Helpers

In connection with the reorganization within the Sheriff's Department Sheriff Martin M. Kellenberger today announced Lt. O. J. Senecal formerly chief of the Belle Glade Sub Station and Elliott P. Lanester who head the Delray Sub-Station have been relieved of their duties.

R. Lee of the Sheriff Road Patrol has resigned effective December 22-24-85 and Sheriff Kellenberger has accepted his resignation. Robert G. Heron and Valgoun M. Hay have been appointed acting heads in charge of the Belle Glade and Delray Sub Stations. Lt. Wates formerly Superintendent of the Detective Division will assume the post of Capt. Lee as acting Captain of the Road Patrol. W. Jo Bennett is appointed acting Captain in charge of the Detective Bureau.

Detective Sgt. Hilton Bonard of the Glades sub station of the Palm Beach County Sheriff's Department working out of Tuesday morning on a case. Late that morning he was asked to resign. He complied.

Although neither Lt. O. J. Senecal nor Sheriff Martin M. Kellenberger were available for comment, Senecal allegedly has been relieved of his duties. Lt. Bob Heron of West Palm Beach has been appointed to head the Glades sub-Station if appears. Heron was out of town and unavailable for comment.

Bonard said he had been contacted by his resignation for some time. "I had already typed out my resignation and was waiting for the day of this month."

Bonard who was with the department for three years did not see Kellenberger Tuesday morning when the Sheriff said he was resigning. This turnover of personnel in the Glades is reported.

eddy a result of the grand jury suggestion to Kellenberger to "take appropriate action to correct the present situation regarding the pressure of his department to enforce the gambling laws of the State of Florida."

The Glades was named by the grand jury as an area where such action was needed.

Bonard said gambling has been in the Glades since he moved here in 1946 and would continue to operate here. "It can be held down to a degree," he said, "and what is agreed depends on how much time and money is spent on it."

Bonard said he averaged 40 hours a week working for the Sheriff's Department investigating all sorts of cases. "Gambling requires intensive enforcement for effective control," he said.

Acting Lt. Bob Heron, on his second day heading the Sheriff's Glades sub-Station said, "We are here to serve."

Emmett S. Roberts - He Is A Winner!

Emmett Roberts' campaign for the position on the Public Service Commission now held by Jerry Carter will, we are sure, carry the support of more members of the House and Senate, as well as that of more citizens, than any man who has sought to step from these Halls to a state-wide elective position in recent years.

Mr. Roberts' twelve years in the House has been recognized in Flood Control with membership on Central & South Florida Flood Control Board; his work in migratory farm labor brought him the Chairmanship of State Government Atlantic Coastal States Committee on Migrant Labor.

Mr. Roberts served on the House Committee on Higher Education, and introduced the bill creating Atlantic U. at Boca Raton; he is the selection of the organized element of our school system as leader in the House for the coming session.

The guiding group for the House and Senate in contemplated legislation is the Legislative Council; Mr. Roberts has been a member of this organization, by appointment, since 1956.

Membership on Appropriations, Finance and Taxation, Roads and Highways Committees is a mark of high regard in the House; Mr. Roberts has held these positions.

Emmett Roberts is a Legislator's Legislator; he is accepted as a diligent worker for his constituency; his honesty is unquestioned, and his integrity has left friends.

ships from big and little county delegations, despite his voting record.

County officials of the state presented Representative Roberts their 1965 Good Government Award.

Mr. Roberts' community activities has brought him to the position of International Counselor for the Lions; he is past Exalted Ruler of the Belle Glade Elks Lodge; he serves as a member of the Board of Trustees of the Episcopal Diocese of South Florida, as a member, along with his family, of the Belle Glade Episcopal Church. His Chairmanship of the Palm Beach County Christmas Seal Drive follows his Presidency of the Health and Tuberculosis Association of the County which was preceded by the Presidency of the Resources Board.

Lieut. Col. Emmett S. Roberts US Army Reserves, is a member of the VFW and Legion, and a 32nd degree Mason with membership in Mahi Shrine.

Executive Director Roberts of the Belle Glade Housing Authority has held that position since the chartering of the Authority in '48. The Belle Glade operation is accepted among the knowledgeable as outstanding in the field of housing for migratory farm labor.

With the recognitions by his associates over the years, as set forth above, the Glades has an exceptional opportunity to get behind and help an OUTSTANDING PUBLIC OFFICIAL rise in his preferred labors and gain the advantage of his work on this important State Administrative group.

He's a winner!

Charity Of A Rarity!

It has been said that more hard work and business acumen are necessary to GIVE a dollar intelligently, than to EARN it!

Certainly, individuals support the aid to foreign peoples, but the lack of common ordinary horse sense and the theory of bookish idealists do not include a proper supervision of our tax dollars to the tables and backs of the needy in far away lands.

In our community we're fortunate in having the combined reporting of state and county welfare, health department and our own Migratory Labor Committee, with the Salvation Army making the final check, to be sure that no one is missed at Christmas, and there's no duplication.

CARE helps with food and clothing the needy of the world — 6 million packages is the plan this year.

EVERY DOLLAR given to the holiday — season CARE Food Crusade, sends a food package, averaging 27 pounds, to the needy in 22 countries. Our farm abundance and special foods, including rice for the Vietnamese and Chinese refugees, are emphasized.

Twenty cents is a whole day's pay for agricultural workers in Ecuador, and the average daily income for all of India. In Haiti, incomes average $65 a year.

CARE is a CHARITY with a RARITY — your dollar gets (100 cents) to the needy.

Christmas Makes Fool Of Those Who Claim That God Is Dead

On Christmas Day a soldier in Vietnam, dirty with jungle mud and blood, will tear open a letter from home. For a few moments he will forget his bone-aching fatigue, remembering boyhood days with his family and the excitement of getting and giving gifts.

The sour-sweat smell of barracks and the dank green odor of jungle camps will be replaced by the smell of white sheets, on the old bed at home on Christmas Eve, the pungence of Christmas trees and the aroma of food from mother's kitchen. The illusion will be gone even before the letter is finished and that soldier will live for peace, more than you or I who have never lived on a battlefield can ever long for peace, and he may weep for a meaning that has gone out of his life.

As long as that soldier feels joy from no more than the reading of a letter on a battlefield, or has hope expressed as a longing for peace, or repents through tears for lost meaning, we know that God is alive.

Uncle Dan From Doolittle Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

On account of we was approaching the Yuletide season when everybody was praying for "peace on earth and goodwill toward man," the fellers at the country store Saturday night got off on the subject of peace and war. They was liable to get off on anything but I reckon it was fitten at this time to put this item on the agenda.

All the fellers at the store has lived through two world wars and most of them did a little hitch in the first one and you might say they was qualified to speak their piece on this matter.

First off, Ed Doolittle was of the opinion we would never have another world war on account of no country would dare start one with total destruction from the nuclear bomb hanging over their head. Furthermore, claimed Ed, the American people has come to have this philosophy about any more all-out wars. For instant, he said, we been engaged in this Viet Nam thing for more'n a year and he ain't heard tell of nutha hoisting nothing. In all our past wars, claimed Ed, people started hoarding everything they could get at the first hint of trouble.

Zeke Grubb was agreed with Ed, reported him and his old lady was operating most of the time from a empty pantry. The feller that runs the store said during the last world war everybody that come in the place tried to buy as much of everything as he could spare. He recollected the time, when the war was about over, Clem Webster come in fer some cheese and, as usual, told him he'd like to have all he could spare. He said he wrapped up 125 pounds fer Clem and that cured Clem and at the same time let Clem know the war was over. Clem, that was present Saturday night, claimed it wasn't but 100 pounds, but he admitted he ain't hoarded nothing since.

Bug Hookum was lamenting the only thing they was hoarding at his house was Christmas cards. He reported his old lady has saved ever Christmas card they have got since they was married in 1918. He said they got one from his departed mother-in-law showing a picture of Woodrow Wilson announcing the war to end all wars was over and the world would never spend another Yuletide season in tears. "But Bug said he wanted to get it in the records he wasn't agin Christmas greetings! They was a little cramped fer space at his house, he said, with 'all the dresser drawers stuffed with 'em but he was proud of all of 'em, special that one with Woodrow Wilson announcing the end of all wars.

And me and all the fellers at the store, Mister Editor, passed a resolution on the first reading wishing you and all your subscribers, advertisers, readers and enemies a very MERRY CHRISTMAS.

Yours truly,
Uncle Dan

In the Fullness of Time God Sent His Son

AND so the setting of our story shifts from heaven to earth where time and space enter into all calculations as they do not in the eternal realm. The location of our story now centers in the little town of Bethlehem. It is soon to be immortalized by an event that is kept alive in the memory of man by song and story as well as by scripture. The action is limited to this tiny spot. God who was to be found in the uttermost parts of the earth has now come to dwell among men as the little child in the arms of Mary and Joseph. Then and there a thousand years came to be but as yesterday when it is passed. A certain day on the calendar takes on eternal as well as temporal significance. God acted then at a specific time as well as in a specific place.

The birth of this child was dated by the name of the king who was reigning at the time, Caesar Augustus had issued a decree that all were to be enrolled in the place of their birth. In obedience to that decree the maiden who had consented to be the bearer of the promised child, the handmaiden of the Lord, was hastening toward Bethlehem. Mary and Joseph have come to answer an edict calling for a census. So many others had come in obedience to the same call that the inns were filled and the only place of hospitality that these two could find was that of a stable.

Here among circumstances that would appall any modern prospective mother, Mary, in the language of scripture, "gave birth to her first born son and wrapped him in swaddling clothes and laid him in a manger." The reputed place of this birth is drear and drab as one sees it today. It must have been even more so then. And, yet, somehow or other, wonder clings to the place as we remember that there was "a mother's deep prayer and a baby's low cry," and that here was repeated "the old sweet story set round with glory."

The world paid little attention to this event toward which the stars ran. The birth at Bethlehem of one more boy aroused little or no special attention among the people. While a certain expectation had grown up among the devout of his race as to the coming of a deliverer:

They were all looking for a king
To slay their foes and lift them high;
Thou camest a little baby thing
That made a woman cry."

Thus there were few to give heed when only a simple event such as the birth of one more baby took place.

It is not surprising that the contemporary onlookers missed the greatness of that event. Only God could have conceived the sheer simplicity of such a scene. Inevitably men asked as they found "such a babe in such a place," can he be the Savior?"

Looking back on the event we sing, "Joy to the World the Lord is Come," but no one sang that or any other Christmas song in the long ago and far away.

THE HERALD
Belle Glade, Florida
Dear Mr. Jones,
As a Citizen, I write to commend your Editorial "Christmas... Feast of the Nativity of our Lord." I sincerely believe, that the observance of Christmas in our public schools is completely proper. To erase this is to destroy a grand and historic and significant tradition full of expectation, of giving and of sharing and of joy of your children and mine.

"The Christmas Play"—in the public school, in the Community Center, in the Home and in the Church is where it should be — NOT UNDERGROUND!

Praise be... the spirit of Christmas. The gift of the nativity scene and of its meaning and implications is too precious to be tampered with. Are we to be denied this? NO.

The article written as an individual, a Citizen and are not the expressions of anyone or any body to which I am associated. The above are my personal feelings.

Muck and loose material were removed along an engineered channel from Winnie's Cove shoreline 3,000 feet west to the intake crib. Before placing the 12-feet long, 36-inch concrete pipe units in place the dipper must clear material that has been deposited in the trench by wave action of the Lake.

Everglades National Park To Get More Fresh Water

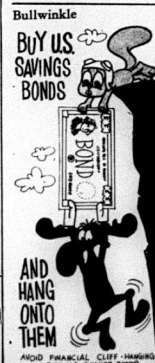

Ed Dail, Executive Director, reported the FCD is ready to start construction of a new levee and canal which will bring more water south into the Everglades National Park than ever before. Dail presented an opinion from Atty. Gen. Earl Faircloth approving the expenditure of state funds for the new levee and canal, which will be built on federal land. It will be the first time any FCD works have been built on land not owned or controlled by the Flood Control Project. Final permit details now are being ironed out with the Everglades National Park and construction is to get underway as soon as the FCD can survey the canal and levee alignment which will extend south 50,000 feet from the Tamiami Trail and convey water from FCD Conservation Area Three. The survey currently is delayed because there now is too much water in the National Park for the survey crews to work. No representative of the National Park Service was present at the meeting in the National Park.

Isolated trees in open fields are dangerous to people and livestock during electrical storms. Such trees can be protected with a lightning rod installed on the tree with a ground cable running down the trunk in moist soil. During an electric storm, its best to stay inside a dry building, away from open fireplaces, windows, and open doorways.

Dear Editor:

NEGRO LEADERS TURN SOFT

I am a Negro clergyman. I live in the heart of Harlem and my church is located in the heart of the Bedford-Stuyvesant section of Brooklyn. I think I understand the condition of the Negro very well. I always try to think as a sober adult.

Many of our so-called Negro leaders are running scared and turning soft. Many of them are beginning to speak the language of the hoodlums loud and clear. Many of these so-called leaders are failing to speak up for right. They either don't know right from wrong, or they couldn't care less.

There is a cry among some of the would-be leaders that Police Chief William H. Parker of Los Angeles "got to go." I wonder sometimes does the Negro really know what he wants. We cry, cry, cry about what the white man is not doing, but what are we doing to help the rank and file of the Negro community? There can be no doubt in my mind about these people who are can be no doubt in my mind robbing, burning and looting. They are sick people. They need help, and if we fail to help them, we all are in trouble. If we fail to help these people, what happened in Los Angeles is just the beginning.

The 20,000,000 Negroes in America own more Automobiles than all the people in China, Russia and all the countries (about 45) in Africa. Where are our business corporation? The Negro is employing less than one half of one per cent in his (Negro) business among his own people.

What's wrong with the Negro? Hasn't God Almighty made us (Negroes) as other races? We are proving to the world our inability to conduct business, and to employ some of our people as other races.

There is no place in this country per square mile where there is so much vice of all sorts, as it is in Harlem and the Bedford-Stuyvesant section of Brooklyn. The Christian church (not Christ) has miserably failed to keep pace with a lightening fast growing affluent America, the lethargy in the church is unparalleled in our time. God has been ignored in our homes, put out of our schools and He is not wanted in many of our churches. The Bible says "Having a form of godliness, but denying the power thereof." We need clergymen who are willing to get together and bring about soul-stirring revivals in our major cities, to bring back sanity to our community.

The Jewish Prophet wrote 2,565 years ago: "Is there no balm in Gilead; is there no physician there? Why then is not the health of the daughter of my people recovered?" (Jeremiah 8: 22).

The Police Department of the City of New York is one of the best in the world. I have traveled in many countries of the world, and much in this country, but there is none to equal this Department.

Animals tend to eat more when they have company, biologists say. A chicken that has already stuffed itself will start eating again if placed with one that is feeding.

Having some 27,000 men in the Department, it would be expected to have some bad apples among this great number of men. To tie the hands of the entire Police Dept. with an independent review board should be unthinkable in times like these. The Police should be given even more power.

My name is Arthur Bradford, pastor of THE CHURCH OF GOD, 1514 Fulton St., Brooklyn, N. Y. Arthur Bradford

Lot Of Smoke

Florida smokes in more tax money than it drinks in thru liquor purchases; we smoke in more taxes than we drink in by beer and wine combined.

The figures for November are liquor $3,058,167 beer $2,380,058 and wine $620,892; cigarettes bought in $4,779,753.

We smoked and drank in around eleven million $ in taxes during November.

Doug Thompson Tapped For Fla. Blue Key

Florida Blue Key, men's leadership fraternity at the University of Florida, tapped 28 new members this week.

Douglas H. Thompson Jr., son of Douglas H. Thompson, 618 SE 4th St., Belle Glade was among the new members.

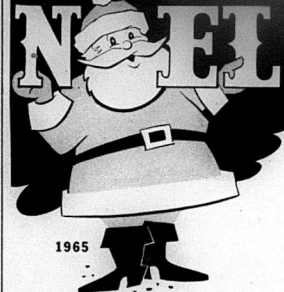

The service organization, which chooses its members on the basis of leadership qualities and high moral character, is responsible for the annual Homecoming festivities, maintains a speaker's bureau and sponsors a weekly public service television program ("The Second 100") about the University and its personnel.

Florida Blue Key tapped two outstanding students posthumously — John Michael Stratton of Callahan and William Fleming of St. Augustine. Both died in automobile accidents earlier this year.

Stratton was the son of Harry O. Stratton, 305 Stratton Road, Callahan; Fleming was the son of Mr. and Mrs. George O. Fleming, 20 Oak Road, St. Augustine.

The straight lines of large rooms furnished in modern style can be attractively softened by planters filled with foliage plants. You can be sure of long-lasting greenery by using such plants as Philodendron and Scheffera and keeping them in individual porous red clay pots, which automatically guard plants against over-watering.

Make Safety A Part of Christmas

With the holiday season approaching, the Environmental Health Division of your County Health Department has again asked for the cooperation of everyone in making safety a part of their observance.

"Christmas is a happy & joyous occasion for all. Special precautions should be taken to help keep it that way," they said, and then offered some suggestions for family and home safety.

1. Be sure all toys and presents given to children are not capable of causing fire, explosion, or electrical shock, do not have sharp edges, or do not contain poisonous materials such as lead paint.

2. Be sure toys which operate by electricity have the UL (Underwriters' Laboratories, Inc.) label on them.

3. Select a Christmas tree which has been treated with a fire-resistant coating, if available. Keep water around the base of any live tree at all times while in the home.

4. Use only UL approved electric lights and decorations with fireproofed or non-flammable materials.

5. Keep the decorated tree in the coolest area of the room, and away from registers, heaters, fireplaces and other heat sources.

6. Turn off tree lights whenever you leave the house, even if only for a short time.

7. Frequently check the needles of the tree around light bulbs — if they are brown, relocate the lights. When the needles begin to shed, take the tree down and dispose of it.

Your Health Department also cautioned that traffic conditions are not at their best during the Holidays, and advised that when travelling, allow extra time for a safer trip.

Vet Dependent Age Limit Upped To 23

M. T. Dixon of the Fla. Dept. of Veterans Affairs, announced today that the maximum age of a child, in order to be recognized as a dependent of a disabled veteran by the Veterans Administration has been raised from 21 to 23 years, provided child is unmarried and enrolled in a course of instruction at an approved educational institution.

Dixon further stated that this law, also increasing compensation payments to veterans with service connected disabilities effective December 1, and the change in the age limit of a child for which additional dependency allowance may be paid, will assist several thousand of disabled veterans in Florida.

ARCHAEOLOGICAL FACTS OF INTEREST

Expeditions in recent years have thrown great light on early Christian customs as well as the Old Testament.

For example, studies of the walls of the catacombs used in the early period of Christianity show us that "X" was the Greek symbol used to represent the name "Christ." This accounts for the custom of abbreviating "Christmas" to "Xmas" which is still common today. Considered by many to be irreverent, in the light of history, it is not.

Half a mile from the Dead Sea, in a place called Qumran are 11 caves known as the Caves of the Dead Sea Scrolls. Here, according to recent archaeological findings, a sect known as the Essenes copied the scriptures of their day — approximately 100 B.C. to 70 A.D.

When the Roman Tenth Legion menaced the sect, they fled, leaving their precious manuscripts in jars and hiding them in secret caves.

They never returned to recover these manuscripts and the latter's existence was unknown until 1947 when a Bedouin boy accidentally discovered them.

The scrolls include a complete text of Isaiah, 1,000 years older than any Hebrew version used in our Bible, and they corroborate the Bible in detail. No doubt as archaeological expeditions continue to unearth discoveries of older civilizations, they will throw more light on Christian customs.

South Florida Fair Grows; Fiesta Is Added

The biggest parade in West Palm Beach history will kick off the South Florida Fair and Provenencia Celebration January 20, inaugurating a month long Coconut Fiesta, it was announced by Fair president Fred G. Yount, who added that the fiesta was planned to grow to rival Tampa's Gasparilla Days.

The month long Coconut Fiesta will be named in honor of the coconuts that drifted ashore from the wreck of the bark, Providencia, which endowed the Palm Beach coast with its picturesque palms and traditional coconuts and it will be promoted in cooperation with the City of West Palm Beach.

Opening with the 54th annual South Florida Fair, it will include a series of sports, recreational and curious attractions that have made the area famous and close with the Circle T Rodeo of Indian Territory. Judge Russell H. McIntosh, chairman of the South Florida Fair and Provenencia Celebration Parade has announced that the parade, to march through downtown West Palm Beach at 7:30 p. m. January 20, will include Orange Bowl floats, over 2,000 boy and girl scouts, military bands and marching units. The Dade County Sheriff's Department Motorcycle Drill team, who perform a spectacular acrobatic show, will be one of the many thrill units adding color to the parade.

Secretary-manager of the Fair, W. Lamar Allen, has announced that the grounds of the Fairground on South ern Blvd., West Palm Beach, have been improved over the summer and will offer an enlarged parking lot and a major new entrance to the record crowds attending this year. He also stated that the exhibition space has been sold out in advance of previous years and that the space vehicle exhibits which have made the Fair known and visited by the many who keep abreast of the times, will again be an especial part of the Fair with exhibits from NASA, Pratt Whitney and Sikorsky.

The annual Teen Queen

contest, sponsored by the West Palm Beach Recreation Center will be among the many traditional Fair competitions which will again include Baton Twirling, 4-H competitions and photography.

A new feature of the Fair will be a horse show in the newly constructed area and this year's Cinesphere by the Chevrolet branch of General Motors.

toy, but the real thing! Toys are evidently not the order of the day.

In about an hour the children had talked to Santa, received their goodies, and left. South Bay School was once again quiet and the only evidence that the Santa had been there was the Christmas tree, still burning brightly!

Deer Hunters Bag Catch The Hard Way

Woody O'Neal, Johnny Waters and Ray Sullivan, Jr., bagged a 10-point buck on a hunting expedition Saturday. This indicated like a very simple and rewarding trip, but there were a few complications. Ray fired the first shot, and when asked where he hit the buck he said "In the end where it didn't count," which was the rear section! The animal jumped up and started over the dike when Johnny brought him down. This time the shot found its marks.

Evidence of the catch can be found in Ray's Icehouse at the Sunoco Station and also in Johnny's house, where he has the 10-point antlers as a reward for bringing the animal down. This leads to speculation as to what Ray Jr.'s reward will be, since the mark of his shot was placed in such an unusual location!

TINY PACKAGE
There has been a saying that "good things come in small packages," and exciting Christmas gifts are no exception to the rule. What bigger and more thrilling gift could you possibly give to a loved one than the whole wide wonderful world of sound, packaged in a tiny, modern, transistorized, mini-audio hearing aid, weighing barely as much as a coin. Don't let someone you love turn a deaf ear to Christmas—this year give a sound gift.

The Hours
Our word hour comes from the Greek goddesses called "hours" who represented the four seasons of the year.

THE ORIGINS OF JOLLY OLD SANTA CLAUS

The droll figure we Americans know as Santa is actually a combination of many legends, reaching as far back as 200 A.D.

St. Nicholas, the forerunner of our modern St. Nick, was known for his generosity. After his death many European countries adopted him as their patron saint.
He was introduced to this country by the Dutch settlers of New Amsterdam, now known as New York City. St. Nicholas was imagined as a tall, thin figure in the robes of a bishop, until the 1800's when American artists began to picture him as short, fat and happy, much like the German version of "Sankt Nikolaus."

The reindeer-drawn sleigh is derived from the Swiss notion of a "Christkind," or Kris Kringle, and has since been appropriated as our own Santa.
The color of Santa's suit is a reminder of the red robes of a bishop worn by the original St. Nicholas.

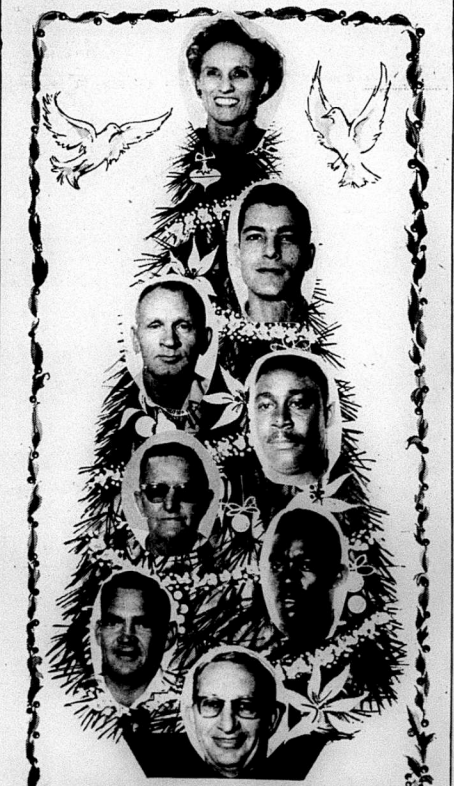

So you see, Santa didn't just "happen," like Toppy, he grew, out of the tales and fancies of many nations.

CHRISTMAS BLESSINGS

Renny Connell Received Degree From F. A. U.

Renny Michael Connell, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Connell, 101 N. E. 7th St., Belle Glade was among the 156 graduates to receive degrees Saturday at Florida Atlantic University's third commencement exercises held at St. Joan of Arc Church, Boca Raton.

The class, which included 56 Palm Beach County residents was the third and largest FAU has graduated. Dr. J. Broward Culpeper, chancellor of the state university system, was the commencement speaker. Dr. Kenneth R. Williams, president of FAU introduced the speaker and spoke to the graduates.

Mr. Connell received his B. S. degree, majoring in History. He is a graduate of Belle Glade High School and also Palm Beach Junior College.

Among those attending the exercises from Belle Glade were Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Connell and son Kevin, Mrs. Dora McWhorter, Mrs. Frank Dooley and Mrs. Corinne Tittsworth.

The president's reception for graduates, faculty and guests was held in the church hall.

It ever there is a time of year when sound is essential, it is Christmas. There are so many wonderful things to hear! Chimes ringing their voices prayerfully, carols evoking the season cheerfully, children making their earnest pleas to Santa Claus, voices of dear ones over the long distance, friends laughing and happy, holiday music on radio and television, sleigh bells and church bells and door bells.

Yes, Christmas is the gayest, most pleasant holiday of them all, and sound is the keynote to the whole event. Consequently, what is sadder than the sight of an older member of the family who cannot hear as well as he was once able. He feels that Christmas isn't as much fun as it used to be. He thinks it's probably because people aren't as friendly, as cordial, as warm and wonderful as in the good old days.

He misses the music he cannot hear. It annoys him when people seem not to talk clearly or loudly enough. He is apt to be grouchy because no one is spending time with him. It may be Christmas, but he is bitter, and disappointed and terribly disappointed that things cannot be the way he remembers them.

What can be done for the older member of the family to bring him back into the full circle of Christmas spirit and love? How can he be expected to enjoy that in which he cannot fully participate? What can the family do to "win him back to the fold?"

The answer is a simple one: Give him the gift of sound this Christmas. Give him a hearing aid fitted to his exact needs and comfort. A hearing aid is a gift the entire family can purchase and give together, and it is a gift that will go on giving Christmas after Christmas!

Don't let an older member of your family sit on the sidelines this Christmas—help him to totally enjoy the holiday. Bring the whole season into focus for him. Give him the intangible gift of hearing, in the tangible form of a hearing aid. You'll enjoy your holiday better, too!

U.S. Army Candidate School Program Greatly Expanded

The President issued a statement last July that the current and anticipated rate of deployment of United States troops to overseas areas will necessitate increasing our active fighting forces by raising the monthly draft call from 17,000 to 35,000 per month, and stepping up the campaign for voluntary enlistments. Such procedures will add 235,000 men to the ranks within a few months.

As the Army increases, the need for leaders grows in proportion. In order to fill this need for young officers, the Officer Candidate School program is being greatly expanded. Civilians without Reserve Officer Training Corps training who are college graduates may enlist in the U. S. Army for the purpose of attending an Officer Candidate School. Those who are motivated to apply are reminded that, unlike service academy cadets, officers candidates may be married.

OCS training is currently given in Artillery at Fort Sill, Okla., and in Infantry at Fort Benning, Ga. The OCS program has also been expanded to include Signal at Fort Gordon, Ga.; Engineer at Fort Belvoir, Va.; Military Police, Intelligence, Chemical, Medical Service Corps and Finance at Fort Benning, Ga.; Quartermaster, Transportation & Ordnance at Fort Knox, Ky.; and Women's Army Corps at Fort McChesney, Ala.

Never before has the Army offered so many opportunities for young enlisted men and women to become officers. Today, 20 years after World War II, many officers are retiring, thus creating vacancies for new commissioned leaders.

"One of the Army's greatest needs now is for more young officers," said Major General W. A. Cunningham, Commanding General, TV U. S. Army Corps, Birmingham, Ala., whose command is responsible for the Army Reserve program in the three-state area of Alabama, Florida and Mississippi.

"The Officer Candidate Program," General Cunningham continued, "provides the opportunity in particular for enlisted personnel to qualify. Those who can qualify not only receive a commission, but have opportunities for interesting and worthwhile service in a variety of important assignments world-wide. I urge all qualified men and women, both civilian and military to apply while such opportunities are still available."

While officers are obtained from several sources, the U. S. Military Academy at West Point, the ROTC program in colleges and universities of the U. S. and direct appointments in the Reserve to certain individuals with specialized training (chaplains, doctors, lawyers, etc.) the largest source has been and continues to be Officer Candidate Schools.

In addition to the OCS program for enlisted and warrant officer personnel already on active duty with the Army, there is the Officer Candidate School Option program for qualified college graduates having no prior military service or ROTC training.

Applicants for OCS training under the Option program must be citizens of the U. S. under 27 years of age, and must be graduates of, or senior students in, colleges or universities recognized by the U. S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare. Enrollees are not required to have had ROTC training at the college level. If the college or universities had no ROTC program, or if they were not able to participate in the Army ROTC program for valid reasons. They may enroll in the Option program as much as 135 days before graduation.

Under the OCS Option program, the applicant must enlist in the Army for two years and undergo eight weeks of basic combat training and eight weeks of advanced individual training prior to being assigned to an OCS. Upon graduation from OCS as a second lieutenant, the individual must serve at least two years on active duty as a commissioned officer. For detailed information contact the nearest U. S. Army Reserve Training Center or Army Recruiting Station.

BALLOONS ALOFT may mean more water on the ground in Everglades Conservation Area One of the Central and Southern Florida Flood Control District. The balloons, such as the one at the upper left, are attached to airboats so men with transits on levees can fix positions. Surveyors sight in on the balloons because the airboats, sometimes seven miles out in the sawgrass and hammock islands, are not visible. If the survey shows that water regulation schedules can be improved in the 331-square mile water storage area, which also serves as a wildlife sanctuary, it could mean more water during dry seasons for residents of Palm Beach and Broward Counties, and for Everglades' wildlife. The survey is being conducted jointly by the FCD and the Army Corps of Engineers.

Have a Healthy Holiday

Jingle bells! Jingle bells! Jingle all the way!
It's that time of year again. Time for the fast social whirl—the parties, the luncheons, the gift exchanges, the out-of-town guests, the unexpected visitors. And that means added excitement, confusion, hurrying around, tension, anticipated crises—on top of running a holiday household.

GREETINGS and our best wishes for a cheerful CHRISTMAS

Francis' Beauty Shop

The holiday hustle and bustle is fun and time-consuming. When there's so much to do, it's easy to let some of your regular routines lapse. But your family's health is one routine that requires constant attention, all the time, and especially at holiday time when everyone wants to be in the best of health.

At that busy time of year, you can't afford to relax your family health practices! Whether you are thinking about them or not, bacteria are a constant threat to your family's health.

Infections from staphylococcus bacteria, for instance, can affect the skin and eyes, and the respiratory and digestive systems. Unchecked, they grow on the skin and in nasal passages and spread to the environment where they are disseminated in the air, in plumbing, on walls and floors, on furniture, in clothes—anywhere.

Regular family health habits are the best protection against staph bacteria. Frequent hand washing and daily baths with an anti-bacterial soap such as Dial go a long way in arresting the growth of staph and keeping it below the dangerous level. Regular washings with mild Dial are effective because it contains hexachlorophene, an anti-bacterial ingredient that reduces staph bacteria along with other skin bacteria as much as 95%. With continued use, further bacterial growth on the skin can be prevented.

So, while you're caught up in the holiday whirl, you may be tempted to let some things slide. But you can't afford to let family health habits be one of them.

The availability of some 2,000 varieties of cactus plants, many of them flowering species of yellow, red, pink and other favorite colors, makes it easy for you to make your own indoor desert scenes with dish gardens or floor areas paved with clay-potted cacti.

NOTE: This is the last of two articles on the early history of nursery and child care in Belle Glade. It was written from the material found in two scrapbook reports which have been preserved in the Belle Glade City Library since 1940. The scrapbooks are entitled "Report of the Belle Glade Community Center, Inc." Information from the scrapbooks has been confirmed by interviews with people who initiated and worked in this pioneer project. This is a tribute to the citizens of Belle Glade who cared enough about deprived children to become personally involved.

This is a continuation of the story of this pioneering project for the 1939-40 season. It was written from scrapbook reports filed in the Belle Glade Public Library and from interviews with people who worked on the project.

A meeting of the Belle Glade Community Center, Inc., on October 23, 1939 revealed that due to enthusiasm of the community at large, it would be possible to operate the nursery for another year. The late A. E. Kirchman, mayor, became president of the organization and among the officers held over from the previous year were Mrs. Marie Bregger and Luther Jones.

Ralph Freeman was again selected as business manager. Mrs. F. D. Stevens had charge of equipment and building. Mrs. Barbara Blakely, the registered nurse who had worked the year before in the nursery, was sent by the Home Missions as head worker. The staff was composed of seven people and they worked under provisions of one of President Roosevelt's program, the W. P. A.

The American Legion again responded generously when no other place large enough could be found to house the nursery. The hall was given rent free at considerable sacrifice to the Legion's program of activities and income through rentals. The Legion Hall at that time was located on S. E. Avenue E, a block east of Main Street.

The various committees of the Belle Glade Community Center, Inc., went to work and soon the Legion Hall was ready to start operating again as a nursery. The Hall was arranged so that it had a fenced-in playroom with a high partition marking off the sleeping quarters. The babies' room was a small separate room off the play room. The stage served as kitchen and dining room. There was a room on the opposite side of the building which served as laundry and storage room. Every day was wash day. The laundry tubs were used for bathing the children as well. A large circulating kerosene stove was used to heat the building. Boxes were used by the children for chairs. A refrigerator was donated by a local dealer. A second hand five burner kerosene stove with an oven was used to prepare the children's meals. Clothing was furnished to the children during their stay in the nursery.

The nursery opened on November 6, 1939 and closed on June 2, 1940. A total

Of seventy children were registered during the year with an average attendance of about thirty-five. The nursery operated continuously after the first week for twenty-four hours, seven days a week, except for one week during the Christmas holidays. The last of January brought a disastrous freeze to the Glades and financial help was needed to keep the nursery operating. An appeal was made to citizens and church groups in West Palm Beach and through their help the nursery was able to remain open during this trying period.

The nursery staff worked to create a home-like atmosphere for the children since many of the little ones did not see their parents for weeks at a time. The staff wanted each child to feel that he was part of a big family and many experiences were given to the children with this in mind. Birthdays and holidays were observed with a special dessert at dinner such as a cake or home-made ice cream.

The children had many enriching experiences such as nature walks, regular attendance at the Community Sunday School, a trip to local fair where they were treated to ice cream cones and rides on the merry-go-round. There was a grand Christmas party with a tree, toys, fruit and candy for all the children and their older brothers and sisters as well. There were Easter baskets and eggs at Easter. These treats were given to the children in addition to their well supervised schedule of daily activities, their well balanced meals, and the excellent health care they received. Parents paid 25c a day for the nursery care of each child.

The staff of workers had to meet many problems. Mrs. Vivian Arnette, who worked one night a week to relieve Mrs. Jettie Thigpen, the regular night worker, recalls one bitterly cold night when the circulating heater started smoking and stopped putting out heat. Mrs. Arnette called Mr. Freeman who was trouble shooter as well as business manager. He came at once and got the stove working, and the next day it was taken out and put in good condition. The children and babies slept snug and warm under their blankets all night and not one awoke.

Many boxes of needed supplies were received and a most imposing list of visitors from near and far came to visit the nursery. The Council of Women, New York City, sent a photographer to make a film on the nursery program, and the work being done by the parents of the children. The Congregational Church Board sent a staff member to take pictures and compile a report. The film and pictures were circulated widely to show what a small community could do to meet the needs of the babies and young children of agricultural migrants.

I reckon y'all have heard tell of Will Rogers, the cowboy humorist from Okla. homa, and how he was a right good cowhand until he got ambitious. That's when he went on the stage to do his rope tricks and pull his jokes amongst the bare legged beauties of Ziegfield's Follies. Well folks, we once had a cow hunter on these Arcadia and Kissimmee prairies who was near about the match for Mr. Rogers. He even had a chance to go onto the stage himself, but he turned it down. He just allowed as how he couldn't stand to live in civilization and do without his ridin' hoss, and besides, he didn't never love to sleep under no roof noway.

Bone Mizell was this ranger's name. Napoleon Bonaparte Mizell when he was dressed up for town. Bone herded cattle here back in the days of the open range, when the onliest fences were around the little groves and farms for to keep the cow critters out. Bone rode the range for some of the big cattle kings, but mostly he was foreman for Ziba and Buck King and for the Parker brothers. Bone never married, but he did finally get around to staking out a homestead, and he began for to build up a little herd for himself, and how he did that I'll come to later on. Anyway, he must have done right well, for when he died at the Ft. Ogden depot while waiting for a train, he then had about $15,000 in the bank, so maybe he wasn't so blamed ignorant as some folks given him credit for being.

Bone was tall and lanky, and didn't look to be too sharp. He talked with a kind of lisp and a stranger, more'n likely might decide that he wasn't too intelligent, but that's where he'd be wrong. But Bone could swing a rope, crack an 18 foot "drag" whip, or shoot a rifle with the best, and he allowed as how there wasn't a four legged critter that he couldn't handle when he tried. Bone Mizell was known from Tampa to the St. Johns River marsh and slap on down to Okeechobee Lake. If'n all the stories of his going on was written down I reckon they'd nearabout fill a book.

In spite of his slow drawl Bone was right quick witted and he didn't never lack for some snappy and humorous remarks. Bone always did love kids, so whenever he rode into town the small boys used to follow him around, maybe for one reason because he was right generous in handing out nickles and dimes. Once in Arcadia a couple of kids come running up.

EYEFUL... Lovely Lida Mizell is looking at you through the jaw of a baby shark, a typical example of the interesting items on display at the Miami, Fla., Seawarium — the Shark's Jaw, that is.

Prevent Fires This Christmas Season; Carelessness is Chief Fire Cause

People across the nation were urged by J. Dewey Dorsett, president of the American Insurance Association, to use care with fire this holiday season.

The Association, successor to the National Board of Fire Underwriters, said today that fire losses in the United States this year will exceed $1 billion for the entire year in a row, and fire fatalities, as during the past eight years, are expected to exceed 11,000.

"By using ordinary care, we can hold down our tragic toll," Mr. Dorsett said.

"Throughout the years, according to our statistics, three out of every four fires are the result of carelessness.

Carelessness Chief Cause

"Carelessness can take many forms. A fire can start from such a little thing as an unextinguished match or a lighted cigarette carelessly discarded. In fact, every fifth fire is caused by matches and smoking.

"Another fifth of all fires is caused by misuse of electricity and faulty electrical equipment. As a matter of just good common sense, you owe it to yourself to keep your appliances

16th Century Marks Birth Of Christmas Tree

It's very possible that many people have been under the impression that the evergreen tree has been a symbol of Christmas since the beginning of the Christian era.

Nothing could be further from the truth. As a matter of fact it was not until the 16th Century that the use of evergreens was sanctioned by the church.

The first evergreen tree as used at Christmas such as we know it, was first introduced in Strasburg, Germany, history indicating the date at 1624, and had been used traditionally young, the story goes, the at the holiday season in this use of evergreen boughs for the country for centuries.

When the world was indoors decorations were church.

Christ's Birth Date Shrouded In Mystery

Christmas is celebrated throughout the Christian world as the birth date of Christ. True enough, but what day exactly that Christ was born is a mystery.

The date has been in dispute for centuries with the exception of one thing. All agree that it wasn't December 25th.

At one time or another Christmas was celebrated in January, March, April, May, October, November, and December.

The reasons for the divergence of beliefs are: the Bible does not give any clues; the early manuscripts disagree; the interpretations of these manuscripts disagree and finally, the calendars have changed over the years.

Looking for an inexpensive Christmas gift you can make yourself that people love to receive? Virginia White, fashion consultant for the Faulstich Starch Company, suggests making colorful hostess aprons quickly and easily. Use festive holiday reds and greens. ## English Started Christmas Cards!

As much a part of Christmas as the tree, the giving of gifts and the holly wreath, are Christmas Cards.

In ancient times, the custom of exchanging greeting cards among friends (and in modern times, businesses) was unknown. The practice is a little more than a century old and is supposed to have been initiated in this country in Albany, New York.

It seems there was a dry goods merchant by the name of R. J. Pease, in the capitol of the Empire State who thought it might be a good idea to "greet" his friends and customers at the holiday season by way of a Christmas Card. The idea caught fire in his imagination and soon he had designed, printed and mailed the first examples of Christmas Cards in the United States.

Of course, his intent in sending his "greetings" at Christmastime to his friends wasn't altogether altruistic. He used the card as an advertising device as well.

It was by coincidence that another new symbol of Christmas was introduced at this same time. It was when Victoria of England took unto herself a German-born consort by the name of Prince Albert. In Germany, the tree had long been a part of the Christmas festivities, and when the Prince changed addresses from Germany to Buckingham Palace, he brought his German custom of the decorated Christmas tree with him. The idea "took," became popular in England and was transplanted to the United States.

Actually, the first commercial Christmas card is credited to an Englishman named Henry Cole in 1843. Cole never intended that his idea be commercialized.

All he wanted to do was create a novel way of saying "Merry Christmas" to his friends. Thus he designed a card, commissioned a British Royal Academy artist by the name of John Calcott Horsley to execute the work. It was a simple card depicting a typical family of that time gathered together at a holiday dinner.

At the conclusion of the work, "Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year" were added, a thousand copies lithographed and later hand colored.

He sent out his cards to his friends and little dreamed that he had created a Christmas tradition. They were an immediate success — and have continued to be successful.

Care Can Prevent Toll in Holiday Fire Fatalities

Householders were urged today by the American Insurance Association to take sensible precautions and help prevent fire which each holiday season takes a tragic toll in lives.

Last Christmas, 47 persons in the United States died in fires in the three-day period beginning at six o'clock on Christmas eve, according to the National Safety Council.

In a three-day period last New Year's, there were 74 fire fatalities.

As fire safety precautions, the Association suggested that special care be given the Christmas tree, which when dry, can burst into flames if a spark comes in contact with it. It also urged care in the kitchen when meals are being prepared on the kitchen range and recommended that the use of lighted candles as Christmas decorations be avoided.

"Carelessness is the cause of 3 out of every 4 fires, and if simple precautions are taken these fires can be avoided," the Association said.

Fire fatalities in the U.S. during the Christmas and New Year's holiday periods of the last 10 years are as follows:

Keep Heating Unit In Good Repair

Are you looking forward to a warm and happy Christmas? If so, make sure your heating unit is operating properly.

If you did not have your heating unit checked before winter began, it is a good plan to have it done now, before the holiday season arrives.

You will not only provide efficient heating during the Yule season, but you can also feel assured that your heating unit is in good operating order.

Every eighth fire is caused by a fault in a heating unit or system, or by failure to maintain it properly, the American Insurance Association says.

IT'S AN IDEA HOME DECORATIONS

Wall-to-wall carpeting is really an economical floor covering. For instance, this beautiful olive green carpeting, "Fur-Fax" is continuous filament nylon "501" is not only reasonably priced, but provides savings in heating bills, as wall-to-wall carpeting acts as insulation. Children are protected from drafts and thus less subject to colds and illness. Hospitals have found carpets are more sanitary and prevent infection from spreading germs. Carpets also protect from sudden falls and accidents.

Bone Mizell (Continued From Page 4B)

Bone was the best comedian he'd yet run across.

Back in them days of the open range the cattle roamed the woods and prairies as wild as antelopes and not much bigger either, for they'd dress out at 300 or 400 pounds. At the spring roundup the "steak cattle" were separated for the drive to market, then the calves were branded and marked, the same as the mammy cow which it was following, for the round-up brought in cattle from various different owners, most likely. The marking meant sitting or notching each ear with the proper owner's mark. If any cow by chance had escaped being marked and branded, she was called a here-duck, and belonged to who so ever found her. Bone was riding with his boss, Buck King, and another cow hunter, when they chanced upon an old slab-sided and unmarked cow. She looked to be an onery old devil, shaking her horns and rolling her eyes and threatening to charge the riders.

"Bone, if'n you can put your mark on that there cow, I'm going to let you have her," Buck said. Wheeling his horse, Bone dropped his loop neatly on the old cow's horns, hopped down and started hand over hand along the rope. The cow snorted, whirled and dashed into a scrub oak and palmetto thicket. After a while Bone came straggling out, dragging his rope but minus his knife and most of his shirt.

"Bone, you'd ort to be ashamed lettin' an old scrappy cow git the best of you like that!" Buck ragged him.

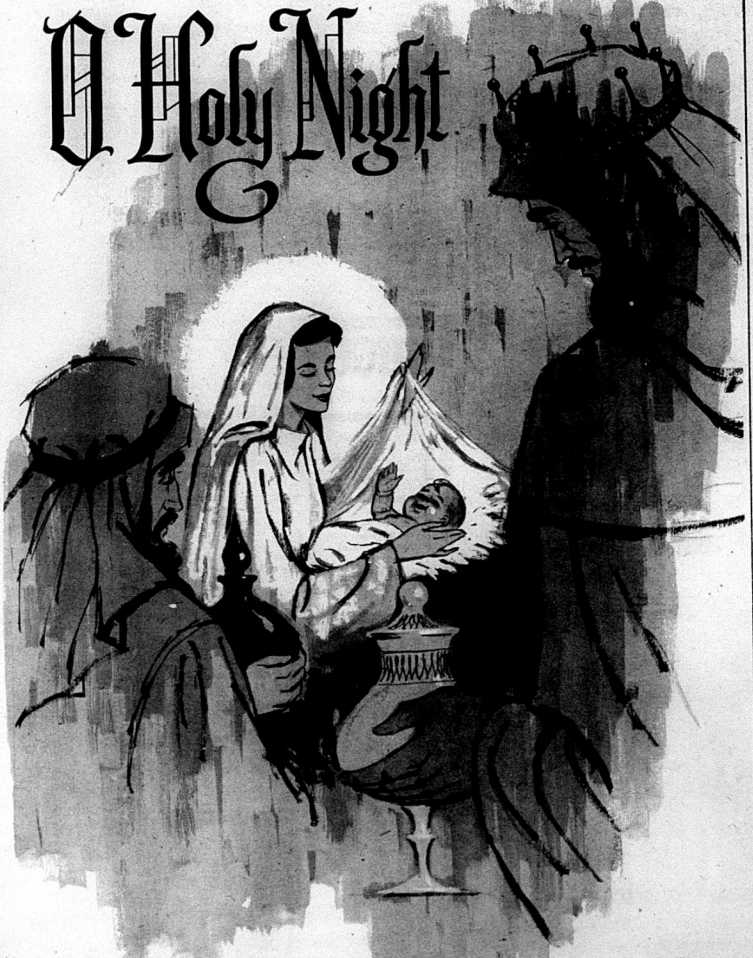

"Well, I got my mark on both of her y'ears, by crackin' 'em!"

"Wait now Bone, don't tell me that! I saw your knife go flyin' through the air when that cow butted you, 'back there in the brush!"

"Hell Buck, Bone Mizell don't need no knife. I marked the old varmint with my teeth!"

"The riders drove the cow out of the scrub and found that he was right. Both ears were neatly slashed with the mark of Bone Mizell.

Now folks, I'm a-fixin' for to tell you more about Bone Mizell. I shure hope your subscription is paid up on this damed news-per, for these tales gits better as they go along.

St. Francis of Assisi Originator of Church Christmas Carol Singing

Regardless of the derivation, it was St. Francis of Assisi who was credited with having given popularity to carol singing when he is said to have conducted a Christmas service singing the Gospel and giving a sermon in song.
When minstrels and folk singing swept the land back in Richard the Lion-Hearted's day, carols were kept alive through the simple folk in community after community, who passed them down from generation to generation. But it was not until the 15th Century when the custom finally broke away from the austerity and sombre chants of the Church and reached its popularity and magnificence.

But then came the Puritans in the 17th Century who sternly forbade joyous celebrations at Christmas, and the singing of carols went into a decline.
It wasn't until the 19th Century before the singing of carols again came into open public popularity. And this was only made possible through the illicit printing and singing of carols in the privacy of the homes of the people who loved them dearly.

In 1840, the world famous, "Silent Night" appeared in print, and today its beauty resounds the world over in every Christian land at Christmas time.

Legends and Christmas Myths

The willingness of people all over the world to believe myths and legends that have been passed down from generation to generation, is well known. Because Christmas—and the festival of the holiday season is so interwoven with mysticism, legend and historical records, many superstitions have resulted in various countries.

to be either lawyers or thieves!

In Ireland—land of the leprechaun and other little folk from never-never land, they have a religious belief that is worthwhile indeed. They believe that if one dies on Christmas Day, he goes straight to Heaven. The doors to Paradise are open for such fortunate, and Purgatory is completely bypassed no matter what kind of malefactor the deceased was on earth. Now that's a gift of Heaven!

The very Santa Claus story itself, is perhaps the greatest of all the Christmas myths, and as research has revealed, is expressed differently in various parts of the world.

As a matter of fact, the actual modern symbol of Santa Claus with his round belly, twinkling eyes, rosy cheeks, flowing white beard, driving his reindeer-drawn sleigh across the sky on Christmas Eve from the North Pole where he has a mammoth toy factory, was created in New York as early as 1882, a mere eighty years ago.

There are, however, equally as fanciful beliefs in other parts of the world, and while there is no documentary evidence to support actual belief in these superstitions, they are nevertheless accepted as legend and passed on, keeping them alive.

For example, if you were born on Christmas Eve in Scotland, it wouldn't be at all amiss if you believed that you had the power to see spirits, and yes, even to command them to do your bidding.

If this idea gives you pause, and you mentally raise a quizzical eyebrow in disbelief, consider the peasantry of France. These gentle folk believe (the story goes) that all babies born on Christmas Eve will have a ready and facile tongue. We wonder if by that they mean "gift of gab."

But that isn't all with these French folk of the countryside. They also believe that the babies born on Christmas Day will be gifted with logic; a moot quality, one often born with the progenitor of argument. But ah, the maidens of France who, born on Christmas Day, come in for the big boon, for these lucky mademoiselles, it is said, will be witty, wise and virtuous!

The Silesians have a pixieish sense of legend—or perhaps humor, when it comes to the gifts earmarked for babies born on Christmas. And how they arrived at this equation beggars logic, because they claim that all such babes who see the light of day on this holy day are destined

The farmers of Denmark have a legend they keep alive—but this one is couched in the economic formulas of life. They believe that baked goods, and particularly bread that is made at Christmastime and saved until sowing time, will insure a good crop and harvest.

"Good St. Thomas serve me right, and send me my true love tonight," is a jingle that is highly romantic and might be applied to either sex. But not so in northern England. In this region of our English cousins, a maiden with yearning heart, used this as a supplication for a mate, but only if she placed a piece of holly under her pillow during the observance of Christmas.

One word of warning to unmarried ladies who might find themselves, for whatever reason, in the Swiss Alps. Beauty is beauty, and no one denies the majesty of the Alps nor the invigorating climate of this part of the world is for the hardy ones. But should our Miss be wielding her alpenstock high on the mountain and meet up with a romantic Swiss gentleman who offers her a sprig of edelweiss, she's had it. This is the signal of a marriage proposal and when the unwary Miss accepts, she accepts the donor with it. (That's at Christmas time, of course.)

Keep Oven Clean, Prevent a Fire

Many people have a roast or fowl for Christmas dinner. But no matter who you prepare, before the cooking begins, says the American Insurance Association

Accumulated grease in your oven or on the stove can cause a kitchen fire and destroy your Christmas dinner and possibly your home, too.

Merchants Prevent Fires

Merchants from coast to coast were urged by the American Insurance Association today to join the nation in helping prevent fire during the Christmas holiday season.

By following a few simple rules, managers of retail stores can help keep their establishments fire safe, the Association added.

It offered these fire safety precautions:

1. Keep all store aisles and exits free from obstructions at all times.
2. When new merchandise is brought in to the buying floor during shopping hours, it should be put in place quickly, and not left standing in its cartons where it would obstruct evacuation of customers in case of fire.
3. Empty packing cases, cartons and other packing material should be disposed of promptly, as soon as goods are unpacked. Storerooms, back rooms and basements should be cleared of such material daily.
4. All store exits should be clearly marked.
5. Retail stores should confine smoking by customers and employees to specifically designated areas. In many stores, smoking by customers on the buying floors is unlawful. Easily seen signs at the store's entrance stating that smoking is forbidden are recommended.
6. Sales clerks and other employees should be given instructions on what to do in case of fire.

At the first appearance of flame or smoke, employees should ask customers to remain calm and leave the building quickly by the nearest exit in an orderly fashion. Be certain that employees know where the exits are located.

Every store should give its sales clerks and other employees complete instructions on how to handle fire extinguishers and other emergency equipment. It should be explained to them, however, that while fire extinguishers can help control small fires, the fire department should be summoned immediately.

Employees should be divided into teams of three in training for a fire emergency. One should be assigned to manning the fire extinguisher or fire hose, the second should call the fire department by telephone, and the third should summon the fire department by sound-

From Mrs. Walter D. Johnson, Greenville, Alabama: When I was five years old, we had a flock of sheep. This was in the month of February. Paths were made to the potato house and to the barn by rolling the snow into large balls. They remained in the yard many days before melting. We didn't make a snowman, but we had potatoes to go with the fresh pork and milk to make us grow.

Little lambs were carried inside and put by the fire in baskets. In the springtime, the sheep were sheared and I still remember their bleating during this ordeal. The wool was cleaned, dyed and spun into thread, from which mother knitted our socks. Green walnut hulls were used to make a pretty color. Cotton was picked, carried to the gin where it was spun into thread and knitted into useful articles. After a few years the knitting machine, operated by hand, took the place of hand knitting. The spinning wheel and the loom were prominent pieces in our home.

We didn't get our food from paper bags. There was pork sausage, baked potatoes, pone cornbread with sweet milk, buttermilk and clabber (which never went into a refrigerator). We went to log rollings with our parents. What feasts and entertainments! What wonderful days for children!

Best wishes to our many good friends!

Thorn Tree Blooms In England, D.C.

A phenomenon occurs every Christmas, not known by many, that may be witnessed by anyone in the Cathedral of the Close in Washington, D.C. or Glastonbury, Somerset, England.

It is the story of the Holy Thorn Tree that blossoms in England every December 25th and in Washington some time during the same month.

The legend relates that two days before Christmas, St. Joseph of Arimathea approached Glastonbury. He carried with him the Holy Grail used at the Last Supper.

As St. Joseph came toward the town, he stopped to rest on the crest of a hill. He drove his staff into the ground and it took root immediately.

The next day, Christmas Eve, it had become a Thorn Tree and was covered with blossoms.

SAINT FRANCIS ORIGINATED THE YULE CAROL

At this most joyous of seasons, have you ever wondered how our modern-day Christmas carol came about? None other than St. Francis of Assisi, the patron saint of animals, is credited with originating the Christmas carol as we know it.

It was he who first conceived a Christmas mass, singing the Gospel and giving the main sermon in song. This new and wonderful way of saying the mass was kept alive till the time of Richard the Lion-hearted. Minstrels and folk-singers passed them on from generation to generation.

During the 15th Century the singing of the Gospel broke away from the austere, sombre chants of the Church, going on to achieve greater magnificence and musical splendor.

In the 17th century, during the Puritan's time, the Christmas carol went into a decline because of the belief that celebrations should not be joyous. Not until the 19th century did the Carol have a semblance of returning with all of its jovial popularity. And this was achieved only through the legal printing and singing of carols in private homes.

It was not until 1840 that the Christmas carol regained and maintained all of its popularity. For during this year the world's most famous Christmas carol was published, "Silent Night." Up to this present day all of its joys and hopes and reverence are still felt in all its simple beauty.

HOME DECORATIONS

A streamlined antiquing process for furniture and woodwork, involving just two steps instead of the usual three or more, is now available in kits on sale generally at paint, hardware, discount and department stores and garden centers. Known as "Fine Antiquing", the kits are available in an assortment of eight colors. Even amateurs can achieve professional antique effects by applying the base coat right over the old finish, letting it dry 24 hours, then painting on the glaze coat and wiping it off while it is still tacky.

Watch Over Young And the Elderly During Holidays

At holiday time, Americans are asked to be particularly watchful over small children and elderly persons who are too often the victims when fire occurs, the American Insurance Association said today.

The highest death rate by fire is among persons 65 years of age or over, largely because they are often unable to help themselves escape from a burning building.

The next highest death rate is among children under 5 years old, and again they become victims because they do not know what to do in a fire emergency.

If you have elderly people or small children in your home, draw up an escape plan under which adults and older children will see to it that the elderly and the young get out of the house if fire occurs.

Lake Okeechobee Is City's Fresh Water Source - Unbeatable

When current installation of raw water intake facilities are completed in January Belle Glade's fresh water source is from the catch basin of the Kissimmee River, Taylor Creek, Fishing Creek and tributary highlands north and west of Lake Okeechobee; it is Lake Okeechobee.

Following years of study of samples taken, influence of wind tides, including hurricanes, influence of contamination from farm land drainage and other pollution, a site 3,000 feet west of Winnie's Cove was chosen.

Anchorage of a foundation for the protective crib, and 36-inch intake assembly is in firm rock. The three-foot diameter specially treated concrete pipe in 12-foot sections is being laid on a graded rock bed for 3,000 feet to a reinforced concrete pump station on the shore line at Winnie's Cove. From the Screen chambers — where fish and other solids are intercepted — two 2100 gpm pumps push the water through more than three miles of 20-inch cast iron to the treatment plant.

Although the electrical switchgear is mounted above indicated highwater line, provision is made for emergency power from a portable generator.

Further assurance of water supply is in the old water intake located along the rim canal, for this is connected with the new raw water line and power units are kept ready for an emergency. The switchover is a matter of a few minutes, and power units are elevated against possible hurricane high water.

The capacity of the fresh water intake pumps is approximately six million gallons per day, while the treated average of water, used during November of '65 is two million gallons for fresh water and sewage.

The City's water treatment plant is of modern design equipped with the best cent proven methods and apparatus of scientists. Operators are licensed by the State Board of Health. Required registration of hourly analyses of water with final supervision from the State Board of Health. The City's distribution system has been redesigned with the loops from the treatment plant for controlled pressure and with properly sized mains to correctly distributed additional fire hydrants. This distribution system was installed by the City Water Department under the supervision of engineers' inspection. Legal permits are in the hands of the City from the several governmental agencies having actual and/or cooperative authority over dikes, canals, lake bottom erators' constant attention, and water rights.

Mistletoe Said To 'Father' Romance

Mistletoe, long a symbol and signal for kissing whoever is caught standing under it, actually is a predatory plant that entwines itself around a tree, strangling and killing it. Hardly what one might term an affectionate plant! The ancient Arabians showed their devotion to their gods by kissing; the Romans too accepted the kiss as a sign of reverence and respect.

The Druids too, embraced the mistletoe, and from them perhaps, came the custom of hanging pieces of it over the doorways of their homes.

The custom of hanging the mistletoe was also widespread among the Scandinavians.

In many countries from time to time, the plant was considered a cure-all for almost every kind of ailment, but that was before modern medicine.

Today, of course, the mistletoe isn't a cure for anything, except perhaps a shy boy or girl.

But the mistletoe is a part of Christmas, and if custom decrees that being kissed if caught under it is par for the course, who can argue with tradition?

Let Ham Sparkle for Christmas!

Whole baked ham for that big holiday dinner shines with a glaze of apple jelly and ginger. Fasten flowers with cloves.

Christmas would not be the same if a ham were missing from the table in many homes. It's a part of the season.

There's a great deal of good eating, easy slicing and handsome good looks in a whole ham. Whole hams are available, says Reba Stages, meat authority, as "fully-cooked" which need only heating through and "cook-before-eating."

Baked Whole Ham

Place ham, fat side up, on rack in an open roasting pan. Insert meat thermometer so the bulb reaches the center of the thickest part, making certain the bulb does not rest in fat or on bone. Do not add water. Do not cover. Roast in a slow oven (300° F. to 325° F.). For "cook-before-eating" hams allow 18 to 20 minutes per pound for roasting.

ing, or until meat thermometer registers 160° F.; for a "fully-cooked" ham allow about 15 minutes per pound, or until thermometer registers 130° F.

Orange Petal Glaze

Melt ¼ cup apple jelly slowly. Stir in ¼ teaspoon ginger. Spread over baked ham. Decorate by arranging candied orange petals around halves of candied cherries to form flowers. Fasten petals with whole cloves. Return ham to oven for 15 to 20 minutes, until glaze is set. To make candied orange ring petals, peel a large orange. Simmer rind 10 minutes. Drain. Cover with hot water. Cook until tender. Drain again. Combine 1 cup sugar, ½ cup water and bring to a boil. Add rind and simmer 30 minutes. Cool and cut into petal shapes.

First Church Of Christ Scientist

The service, to be read in Christian Science churches this Sunday will emphasize the rich blessings which a understanding of Christ Jesus' mission brings to mankind. The Lesson-Sermon begins with the prophecy from Isaiah (9:6): "Unto us a child is born, unto us a son is given; and the government shall be upon his shoulder; and his name shall be called Wonderful, Counselor, The mighty God, The everlasting Father, the Prince of Peace."

Among the correlative readings will be the first tenet of the Christian Science Church: "As adherents of Truth, we take the inspiring Word of the Bible as our sufficient guide to eternal Life" (Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy, p. 497).

The Lesson-Sermon subject is "Christian Science."

Keep Ashtrays In Every Room

Having plenty of ash trays around the house, particularly if you have holiday guests who smoke, is the best way to prevent burns on table tops and rugs, and at the same time perhaps avoid a serious fire, says the American Insurance Association.

'Twas the Night before Christmas

"... And all through the house, not a creature was stirring" ... except these two little rascals! Christmas is their day ... dreams of toys, and sweets, and games, and lots of wonderful things!

Christmas is for children, yes. But, Christmas is for grownups, too. It's a time to give, a time to receive. But, sometimes the spiritual side is overlooked; not deliberately, of course, but lost in the delightful chaos of cheer and joy and fun.

Then remind yourself, to go to church--your choice! Pause there to pray, to give thanks for all you have received; especially, that wonderful gift, the gift of God Himself, in His infant Son. Christmas is Christ's day. His birthday!

THE CHURCH FOR ALL
ALL FOR THE CHURCH
The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend Church: (1) For his own sake. (2) For the sake of his community and nation. (3) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Give Baby Sitter Number of the Fire Department

If you are planning to leave your children at home to dine out, go to the theater, or visit friends during the Christmas holiday season, be certain to employ a babysitter who knows what to do in case of an emergency, the American Insurance Association said today.

It is a good idea to place a card by the phone with the phone numbers of the fire department, the police department, the family doctor, a nearby neighbor -- and also where the parents may be reached, the Association said.

The sitter should know two alternate routes of escape from the house so that she and the children can get out safely if one way is blocked by fire. These alternate routes should be shown to her, and she should be told that in case of fire she is to (1) get the children out of the house, and (2) then call the fire department.

U. S. Adopts World Yule Customs

In terms of age, the United States is the youngest of the Christian nations that celebrates Christmas.

As a result, it is easy to understand that this country has borrowed its Christmas customs from many parts of the world — the celebration of the holy season being as old as it is.

However, the greatest contributors to our customs at the Yuletide have been England, Germany, Italy, Holland, Switzerland and Bavaria. But the "borrowing" Americans have done from their neighbors of the world underwent changes indigenous to our country, with some of the trimmings not picked up at all.

ENGLAND

In England, they have a Boxing Day, and why it is called "Boxing" is not known. Some theorists ascribe the name to the fact that the day after Christmas, gifts are left for the postman. This has spread to include the milkman and others who have performed services for the household.

SWISS

The business of the sleigh and six reindeer has been borrowed from the Swiss. But instead of our version of Santa Claus directing his team across the sky, they have an angel in the driver's seat, who comes bearing gifts.

BAVARIA

Candles in the window at Christmas Eve comes from Bavaria, where the custom dictates the tradition of lighting the way for Krist-kind, messenger for the Infant Jesus.

THE YULE LOG

From England and Italy — though many miles apart — comes the custom of the burning of the Yule log. The more romantic Italians dress up their ceremony by having their children stand blindfolded before the burning log and recite a poem. When the children are finished reciting, the blindfolds are removed and at their feet are gifts. The log takes the place of the Christmas tree.

THE URN OF FATE

Another quaint custom prevails in Italy and Spain — in regards to the giving of gifts. In these two countries all gifts are placed in a large bowl called the "Urn of Fate." In it are dumped presents for all, none of them marked. Then each person draws a gift, examines it and trades among the members of the family until each receives a suitable present.

HOLLAND

In Holland they play a guessing and hunting game when it comes to passing out Christmas gifts. They put small gifts into enormous packages, hide large gifts in remote parts of the house, and use other more ingenious devices for hiding the gifts including the imbedding of them in sausages. The fun of course, is not only in the finding of the presents but also in guessing what they might be.

GERMANY

The Germans have a similar game but with a different twist. They wrap a gift and put a person's name on it. Then they wrap it again with still another person's name on it. This goes on until the package is quite large. Then when it comes to the unwrapping ceremony, each person expectantly unwraps, until finally there are no more "addressees" and the gift reaches its intended destination.

MEXICO

Mexican children do not hang stockings at fireplaces, as there are few in this tropical country. Thus the giving of gifts and goodies for children is surrounded by the custom of breaking the pinata (pronounced pin-yata). The pinata is a large earthenware pot, around which paper figures of birds, animals and even boats are created. The pot is then filled with gifts, cakes, candy and other good things. The filled pinata is hung by a rope from a rafter, and the children gather beneath it blindfolded. At a signal the children, armed with sticks, strike out at where they think the pinata is, break it and the goodies come tumbling down; at which point the scramble begins.

THE PHILIPPINES

The Philippines, predominantly Catholic, start their Christmas on December 16th and climax eight days of Mass worship at 3 a.m. with midnight services held at Christmas Eve. That is the signal for the fireworks, the exchanging of gifts, caroling and general merry-making to begin. The final Christmas festivities come to a conclusion January 6th, which is the date of the visit of the three kings of the East.

SWEDEN

Christmas in Sweden is actually the celebration of St. Lucia — and held on December 13th. On this day the oldest girl in each family rises early, dons a long white dress and crowns herself with lighted candles. Then she wakes the family and serves coffee and cake.

The Scandinavian countries also have a delightful custom at Christmas time. In Sweden, Denmark and Norway, a tree is loaded with a sheaf of wheat for the birds on Christmas Eve. Beneath the tree, the children sprinkle pieces of suet.

RUSSIA

Believe it or not, Russia celebrates Christmas much as we do in the United States, with one exception. They do not make any reference to anything holy or religious about the day. But they do have a "Father Frost" and "Winter Trees."

JAPAN

When the GIs were in Japan they brought with them many State-side ideas, not the least of which was Christmas. The Japanese were quick to adopt the custom and now have their Kurisumasu (Christmas), but it's more like wild New Year celebrations we express in the United States. Their New Year is celebrated much as we do Christmas.

The traditional festival colors in Japan are red and green and white, so it was easy for them to adopt the accepted Christmas colors we enjoy. But the Japanese have "modernized" their version of Santa Claus — and instead of the fat, jolly, rosy-cheeked fellow "with the white beard, they dress their prettiest girls in the traditional regalia and the shorter the dresses they wear, the better.

HAWAII

Not to be outdone by anyone else, Hawaii has its Christmas too. But no reindeer, no sleigh. Their Santa arrives on the beach riding an outrigger canoe, and to top it all off, "Santa" is a hula-skirted girl!

All of which goes to prove that it's a point of view that dictates the custom of the country. But no matter what the geographical position, Christmas is Christmas — and it's the spirit that counts. So Merry Christmas, everyone!

...and many thanks to all you wonderful people whose friendship has been so heartwarming during the year.

Christmas Caroling Dates Back To 1223; Nativity Scene Displays By Churches Followed

Christmas caroling is almost as old as Christmas itself — though not in the form we know it.

An early historian wrote that in the Second Century the bishop of Rome urged his people to sing "in celebration of our Lord." Christmas hymns go back to the Fifth Century, when most of them were written in Latin.

St. Francis of Assisi is regarded as the father of caroling as we know it, according to World Book Encyclopedia. In 1223, St. Francis placed a creche (miniature Nativity scene), in a hermitage in Greccio, Italy.

After this many churches began displaying a Nativity scene at Christmas, and soon the people began acting out the Christmas story.

The actors composed carols to sing with their Nativity plays and after the plays they would stroll down the street, singing. In that way, street caroling was born.

Joseph Mohr, a pastor in Oberndorf, Austria, composed "Stille Nacht," or "Silent Night," on Christmas Eve, 1818. Franz Gruber, the local schoolmaster and organist, composed the music the same day, and the hymn was sung for the first time at Midnight Mass that night.

Charles Wesley, brother of John Wesley wrote, "Hark! The Herald Angels Sing!" in 1739. Phillips Brooks, a noted Boston clergyman, wrote "O Little Town of Bethlehem" in 1888 after visiting Bethlehem.

Though not a carol, Handel's noble "Messiah" is a Christmas tradition. It first was performed in Dublin 1742. "Joy to the World," written in the early 18th Century by Isaac Watts, was set to the music of a segment of the "Messiah."

"While Shepherds Watched Their Flocks by Night," written in 1703 by Nahum Tate, was set to music taken from "Siroe," an opera by Handel.

No one knows who wrote "The First Noel." It first appeared in print in 1833 in a book called "Christmas Carols Ancient and Modern," and is believed to be very old.

The author of "God Rest

Ye Merry, Gentlemen," also is unknown, but he lived before Shakespeare.

So if you should go caroling this Christmas season, think of other carolers of years gone by, of the people of Charles Dickens' time in their beaver hats and cutaway coats, of English villagers in hose and perkin of good St. Francis, and of the priests of the time of the Christian Roman Empire who, before caroling as we know it existed, sang "in celebration of our Lord"

Fun For The Youngsters

Half the fun of Christmas for small-ry is the joy of making things. The tree ornament most prized by the entire family is often the construction-paper chain the baby made!

Let your children stencil a green paper Christmas tree, affix it to a wall, and paste on it the cards they receive.

Or encourage them to draw a gigantic sock on ornamental wrapping paper. Mounted on cardboard and pasted to an open-end box, it holds pine boughs, bells, gift packages, Christmas ornaments and bows to make a very welcome decoration for the front door.

Several delightful afternoon can be passed in making a "gingerbread house" for the Christmas table centerpiece. First, fashion a hip-roof cottage of cardboard. (A deep box bottom is ideal for the four walls, a folded shirt cardboard for the roof. Tape triangular "gables" to two opposite box "walls".) Next, cover the entire structure with butter icing. Outline windows with gumdrops; make chimney of large round gumdrop notched to fit over ridge-pole. The roof can be shingled with overlapping chocolate nonpareils, and an oblong cookie makes a marvelous door. Thick sugar syrup brushed on a flat cardboard and dusted with sparkling granulated sugar makes an ideal snowy "landscape" for your fairy-tale house. Ornamented evergreen shaped cookies make a fitting "forest."

A wire coat hanger, twisted into an interesting shape and brightened with gift paint, makes a mobile when hung with gilded pine cones, paper angels, ornaments, and aluminum foil cut-outs.

Milk cartons minus tops make jumbo gift candles! Knot a lengthwise cord through the bottom, fill with melted paraffin, and let set, making sure cord remains tautly upright. Tear off cardboard, and the children can stud it with sequins or foil stars.

COTS — The children were very proud about having their own bed and bright blanket, and even the littlest knew where his own bed was. Captions for these pictures are taken from the Scrap Book.

Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt made a visit to the nursery on April 24, 1936. Our country's first lady was greatly impressed and showed deep interest in the work being done for migrant children. She declared, "This project is a splendid example of community cooperation and spirit."

The migratory camps were in the process of being built by the government to furnish excellent housing for migrant workers. Eleanor Roosevelt, always, humanitarian in her interests, toured the camps with government officials. It was pointed out to her that many people had not been able to keep their children in the nursery at the Legion Hall because of the distance of the hall from the packing houses. Assurance was promptly forthcoming that nursery buildings would be added to the camps and would be ready by the fall of 1940.

The promise was kept and by the next season of 1940-1941, Osceola Camp had a nursery building carefully designed and built to foster the care and well being of infants and young children. Nurseries were also built in Okeechobee and the other camps in the Glades area. Osceola nursery has been in almost constant operation most of the years since it was built. Okeechobee has operated its nursery most of the time.

The other nurseries operated through the World War II years.

The Belle Glade Community Center, Inc., had met its goal of caring for underprivileged children when there was no other agency to do so. The nurseries in the labor camps were a direct outgrowth of their project. The citizens of Belle Glade have every right to be proud of this pioneering achievement.

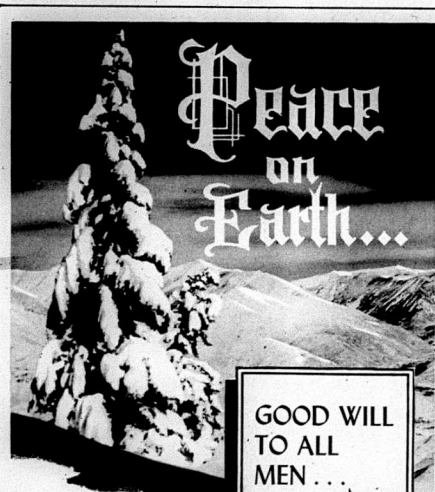

An account of the total receipts in money for the year 1939-1940 shows that $4,108.50 was received. This came from the parents, the Council of Home Missions, from churches and individuals, and significantly by far in the face of a disastrous freeze, $1,840 from the citizens of Belle Glade.

The Board of Directors of the Belle Glade Community Center, Inc., found that $1,200 remained in the treasury all bills were paid. Several years later this money was turned over to the Lions Community Swimming Pool Fund to give impetus to this fine project. Today, two swimming pools benefit all the children of Belle Glade.

WORSHIP: Each day the older children gathered around the table in the play room for worship, songs and stories. After the arrival of our small kindergarten piano, this part of the program was greatly enlarged."

Precious Gifts Of Perfume & Gold Based On Biblical Lore

The Bible relates that the first gifts the Christ Child received from the Three Wise Men were gold, frankincense and myrrh. That is the way the story is related in the Book of Matthew.

To the modern world there is no mystery about the value of a gift of gold. Yet in ancient times, this precious metal was only possessed by kings and very rich men. Thus, the gift was especially precious — one fit for a King.

The other gifts were rare and precious as well. However in today's world, little is known of these substances even though they are still in use.

Since St. Matthew says that the Three Wise Men were from the east, it is assumed that the gold they brought with them for the infant Jesus came from the mines of India Mysore. Frankincense, or olibanum, is a resin obtained from the bark of trees which grow on bare rock in the mountains of southern Asia and northeast Africa. Once upon a time it was used as a medicine. Today it is principally used as incense in Catholic churches, Indian and Chinese temples.

Myrrh is a gum resin also obtained from the bark of trees which grow in Africa and Arabia. Since early times it has been used as a base for perfume and incense — and is still so used commercially today.

Thus it is the same today as it was in Biblical times when gifts of gold or perfume are made to loved ones. The gold perhaps isn't as precious nor as rare as it was when the Three Wise Men travelled to Bethlehem, but the idea behind the gift of gold, as well as perfume based with frankincense or myrrh, is the same.

FOR A LOVELIER COMPLEXION

Did you know that over 70% of American women have dry skin? With some, it's a natural tendency. With others, it's a combination of steam-heated air in winter and too much sun in summer. Whatever the cause, lost moisture must be replaced if the complexion is to have a supple, dewy freshness.

All types of skin can benefit from a new, non-greasy night cream that is so refined in texture that it is completely absorbed. Called Deep Magic Moisture Cream, it softens and smooths the complexion, leaving it with a satin finish. Its formula is a concentration of extra-rich emollients, humectants and natural moisturizers. It should always be used in a daily routine of complexion care.

The rewards of a little time spent on skin care are a clear, soft and smooth complexion. As you know, your skin needs to be kept scrupulously clean. Use a facial cleansing lotion to remove make-up, limiting soap-and-water scrubbing to once a day to avoid possible drying effects. After cleansing, apply dry skin conditioner before make-up for added protection. It's also a good idea to apply a dry skin conditioner all over after your bath for its softening and smoothing effects.

After cleansing the face and throat thoroughly before bedtime, apply this rich moisture cream with upward and outward strokes. Use gentle pats of the fingertips around the eyes to avoid stretching the skin. No matter how sleepy you are, don't be tempted to skip your night cream "just this one night." It does make a difference!

Holy Land Birthplace Of Three Of World's Great Religions

It is questionable whether many people realize the geographical area that comprised the world around which Christianity grew. It is also more amazing to contemplate the world today and the influence Christianity has had upon civilization, when it is reflected that all the events the Bible records occurred in an area no more than 80 miles wide and 400 miles long!

The area known as the Holy Land is small indeed. The historical events however, which have taken place in this tiny piece of land, have almost literally taken civilization by its heels and shaken it into a realization of the difference between good and evil, even though in some parts of the world this realization is not openly acknowledged.

Within these small boundaries, contrasts can be found that are startling. For example, near Galilee the rainfall is abundant, while not far distant the desolation of the Negev desert is well known. Within a distance of 15 miles one can travel from heights of 2500 feet above sea level to 1297 feet below sea level.

The oldest inhabited city in the world is in the Holy Land. It is Damascus, which has been continuously inhabited from the earliest recordings of Biblical times to the present. The old wall around Damascus still stands and is so thick in places that many families have carved out homes from its massive, mass.

The oldest city in terms of founding dates is Jericho. It is said to be 10,000 years old. However, it has not always been inhabited. There have been four Jerichos at various times, each not more than two miles from the previous sites.

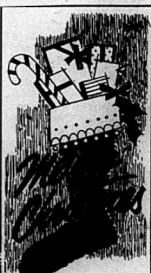

Also in this fabulous land is the River Jordan. It now is a muddy stream not more than 50 feet wide that's deep in the springtime and dry during the hot summer months.

Many people are under the false impression that the Sea of Galilee is really a sea. It is not. It is a lake 13 miles long and 8 miles wide.

There is one place in the Holy Land that is more famous than any other — Jerusalem. Even today, it is a walled city that has been besieged and razed more than thirty times, rebuilt at least six times, and is little more than 90 acres in area. Outside the wall of Jerusalem is the famous Garden of Gethsemane and the Mount of Olives.

Nazareth, the city from which Joseph and Mary started on their trip to Bethlehem, is now a barren small town.

The Holy Land is the birthplace of three of the world's great religions: Christianity, Judaism and Mohammedanism. Still a land of controversy and conflict, it is prayed one day the teachings of Him who said, "Peace on Earth, Good Will Toward Men," will be heeded.

MISS BARBARA ELLIS

"Sweet Sixteen" Party Honors Barbara Ellis

One of the loveliest parties on the calendar of events for the younger crowd during the holiday season was the "Sweet Sixteen" party honoring Barbara Ellis held at the Civic Center Saturday night. The party was given by Barbara's mother, Mrs. Louise Ellis and her grandmother, Mrs. Ethel Maloy.

Huge letters "Sweet Sixteen" decorated in pink with silver glitter decorated the east wall on the platform. Other decorations included pink and white streamers, various colored balloons and mistletoe.

The refreshment table was beautifully decorated with candle holders encircled with holly with lighted red tapers. The crystal punch bowl was surrounded with holly and the huge sheet cake, of individual squares was topped with delicate pink roses. There were also compotes of minis nuts and various chips and dips.

Mrs. Hubert Anderson served punch and Mrs. J. C. Betts and Mrs. Tommy Parker assisted in other serving.

The more than 100 guests including some of the college students enjoyed dancing to recordings. The honoree, in a blue eyelet dress and a lovely corsage presented by Uncle Frank and Aunt Jenny Anderson, was again with the excitement of the evening.

The gift table filled with beautifully wrapped gifts was centered with a pink floral arrangement. Mrs. Ellis presented her daughter with a charm bracelet with a sweet sixteen charm, a rose centered with a red set. Mrs. Maloy gave her granddaughter a wishbone set of pearls and earrings.

Serving as chaperones were Danny Wallis and Tommy Parker.

Trade at Home

For Your own and community progress

Christmas is the time when many of us remember "old times" and let our thoughts turn to the places and folks we knew long ago.

It is also a time when most of us are appreciative and thankful for the good things that are a part of our lives. We're thankful for being part of a fine community. We're grateful to all who have contributed to our town in one way or another... the merchants who make it their business to meet our daily needs... those who participate in civic activities... those who manage the community business affairs and services... to everyone who has a part in keeping the community alive and growing.

We're grateful for... a good place to work, to live and to do business.

Delights Of The Gourment Swell Scholarship Fund

The most unusual selection of food ever offered residents of the Palm Beach area at one meal is developing as 32 of the finest restaurants, hotels and private clubs of the area prepare for the December 23 Gourment Buffet at the Breakers Hotel.

"You could never find this wide a selection of unusual food in any restaurant anywhere in the world," says Francois Blac, former Maitre D' of the Embassy Room at the Waldorf Astoria, who has recently completed a trip around the world training hotel personnel.

"Only through the cooperation of many fine restaurants could such a menu be gotten together," Blac says. "It would be much too expensive for a single establishment to reproduce."

Blanc, now retired and living in this area, has offered his services to the Palm Beach County Hospitality Educational Foundation, which is holding the benefit event for a Palm Beach Junior College scholarship fund.

Blanc, who has been working on coordination of the menu with Mario Berry, owner of Toll Gate Lodge, Manchester, Vermont, pointed to such items as the Colony Hotel's "La Belle Poitrine de Pintade Roti Preparee de la Mode due Colony," (breast of dinal en Bellevue," (rounds of lobster), and the double more expensive items.

The Boca Raton Club's "Le Supremme de Capon de Vermont," (roast Vermont turkey), and "La Langue de perial," the Coonnade's "Le Galantien de Canard Rouennais avec saecre Recette d'Henri," (a special recipe for jellied duck), the Bayou's "Le Maitre Coq Au Vin cuit avec le fumet de Bourgogne," Chesler's "Le Medaillon de Veau Froid Parfume a la sauce de Thon au Marsala," (rounds of cold veal with a special sauce), are all "very expensive and difficult to find" Blanc said.

Others he pointed out were Frederic's "Le Noyau de Boeuf Roti au Four avec la sauce truffee du Perigord," the Embassy's "Le Medaillon de Homard Carguene dinal en Bellevue," (rounds of lobster), and the double more expensive items.

The Boca Raton Club's "Le Supremme de Capon de Vermont," (roast Vermont turkey), and "La Langue de Boeuf garnie Cardinale" (beef tongue). Actually, there is not an item yet offered for the menu that is not unusual and expensive to produce," Blanc said.

"You might find three or four of these items on a really good buffet in an individual restaurant," he said, "but not all of them."

All cooperating establishments are offering their items free of charge to the foundation, and almost the entire amount from the $12 50 tax-free donation per person will be available for the scholarships.

In addition to offering the facilities of its Grand Ballroom, the Breakers will provide two of the appetizers, "Les Crevettes du Golf sur Glace" and "Les Oeufs Far-cia Montfermeil." Although the dinner was originally to have been limited to 200, the interest aroused as word of the event spread has forced an increase to 300, according to Dr. Rudd, of the Palm Beach Junior College faculty, coordinator.

Tickets may be obtained from any of the cooperating restaurants, or from Dr. Rudd at the college.

Florida farmers spend more than two-thirds of what they receive for their products on farm supplies and services.
